

1993 Paper 12 Question 4

Graphics I

A certain image contains a number Q of differently coloured pixels. There are not enough different pixel values available to represent these and so a method of approximation is needed.

Describe an approach and comment on its performance.

[15+5 marks]