

1996 Paper 9 Question 10

Natural Language Processing

Describe three significant differences between programming languages and natural languages. [8 marks]

What problems do these differences pose for attempts to construct programs that “understand” a natural language? [12 marks]