Anonymous feedback for Workbook 4

Thank you for your feedback last week. The majority of the questionnaires from last week (workbook 3) say that most of you were already happy with for loops and while loops before the class. Most of you said that the amount of work was about right and some of you even thought that last weeks work was interesting or exciting. This is good news! Make sure you let us know if you have ideas to make things even better next year. The marker tag on the right is on behalf of a Part II project student: see http://www.cl.cam.ac.uk/~acr31/cantag for more info.

Workbook 4: Please choose one by drawing a vertical line crossing the axis

- My session is: 10-12 12-2 2-4 4-6
- Hours taken last week: 0 5 10 15 20
- Last week's content: Boring Necessary Interesting Exciting
- Amount of explanation: Patronising More than I needed Perfect I needed more Help!
- Amount of work: Far too little Too little Perfect Too much Way too much

How comfortable with the following concepts are you:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>New to me</th>
<th>Nervous</th>
<th>OK</th>
<th>Familiar</th>
<th>Comfortable</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Pass-by-reference/by-value
- Before last week: ____________________________
- This week: ____________________________

Arrays - 1-dimensional
- Before last week: ____________________________
- This week: ____________________________

Arrays - 2-dimensional
- Before last week: ____________________________
- This week: ____________________________

Static vs instance fields and methods
- Before last week: ____________________________
- This week: ____________________________

Operations with Strings
- Before last week: ____________________________
- This week: ____________________________

Any suggestions for improvements