1. Coding Summer School

Rob Harle commented that experience (from the CCA's successful July summer coding course) suggested that there should be some minor changes to the Summer School's course material. He noted that 76 students had confirmed their place and that there would be 13 tutors. Forty students would be resident at Queens' College and 29 at St John's.

Jan Samols confirmed that she would ascertain whether the sponsorship monies had been received and would organise lunches (to cater for 100) for the event.

2. July Open Days

The Open Days went without hitch. 245 students attended of which 35 were women.

Jan Samols noted that she had been contacted by Code First: Girls. It was agreed that any endeavours to increase women in computing should be supported.

3. Date of next meeting

The next meeting will be in SW00 on Tuesday August 18th at 10am.
