Organisational

- You hopefully just submitted Assignment 2
- Thursday: Feedback on Assignment 2
- Today: Questions about Assignment 3?
- Today: Constituency Tests and Exercise 5.9.2
- Today: Clause types

Reading:

- For assignment 3: Make sure you have fully read Chapter 12 J&M (Constituency grammars)
- For assignment 4, you will need to read Chapter 15.1-15.3
- You read section 6 today
- Sometime before Mid-Nov: Read Chapter 16.1-16.4 (Semantics)
- DO Logic worksheet on paper (not just read through)

From J and M, chapter 12.3.3

Noun compounds; branching

Constituency Tests: Substitution

- use “proform” (eg “do so” stands in for a VP; eg. “that” stands in for an NP)
- If substitution is felicitous, then phrase is a constituent (of same category as the proform).
 - I don't want a second-hand fedora that seven people have owned before me
 - *I don't want that
 - I don't want to accused her of having indirectly tortured animals
 - *I don't want to do so

Constituency Tests: Movement

- Constituents can be moved around in the sentence.
 - The old man has come to dinner
 - Has the old man come to dinner?
 - The* has old man come to dinner

Constituency Tests: Insertion

- Appositions are parentheticals.
- They cannot be inserted into constituents, only at the end of constituents.
 - The President of America, Ronald Reagan, is over 70.
 - The President, Ronald Reagan, of America is over 70.
 - The President of America is, Ronald Reagan, over 70.

Constituency Tests: Omissibility

(only suitable for some constituent types)

- Some constituents can be omitted
- Non-constituents cannot be omitted
 - Some friends of the old man came to dinner.
 - Some friends came to dinner.
 - Some friends man came to dinner.*

Constituency Tests: Coordination

- Constituents of the same type can be coordinated
 - Kim and Sandy kissed each other
 - The old man and his young nephew came to dinner
 - The old men and women came to dinner
 - Kim and Sandy divorced and remarried each other
 - Kim kissed Sandy and remarried her
 - That rather old and very unreliable car belongs to Kim
 - Kim washed up and Sandy watched the TV

(Well-known exceptions!)

Problems for Coordination Test

- Kim is a conservative and proud of it
- Kim became a conservative and arrogant
- Kim enjoys chess and watching football
- Kim gave Sandy a pen and Fido a bone
- "To hell with them and be dammed", he said

Exercise 5.9.2

- Why is it “S → NP VP” ?
- Why not “S → (NP V) NP” ?
- Why not “S → NP V NP” ?
- Build a distributional argument using these sentences:
 - Passionately Kim kissed Sandy
 - Kim passionately kissed Sandy
 - Kim kissed Sandy passionately
 - Kim kissed passionately Sandy*
 - Kim kissed Sandy and Robin did so too
 - A: Who kissed Sandy? B: Kim did.
 - Kiss Sandy!

Intransitive verb

a Kim smiled

Transitive verb

b Kim kissed Sandy

Ditransitive verb 1

c Kim gave Sandy Fido

Ditransitive verb 2

d Kim gave Fido to Sandy

Types of Clauses

- subordinate clauses [finite, -ing, infinitive]
 - I can't believe that he tweeted that
 - I don't like fishing in polluted rivers
 - I made him do the dishes
- WH-clauses
 - I asked who was at the party
- relative clauses [object/subject, reduced non-restrictive/restrictive]
 - the man who filmed her was fellini
 - the man who she filmed was fellini
 - the paper presented here will address. . .
 - the director filming in studio 2 is tarantino
 - the Iranian runners who reached the goal within 2 hours were tired
 - the Iranian runners, who reached the goal within 2 hours, were tired

From J and M, chapter 12.3.3

Subject Control verb

e Kim wanted to smile

Control vs. Raising Verbs

- Control: Subject or object is semantically an argument of the verb
 - Kim tried to enjoy the party [subject control]
 - Kim persuaded Lee to go to Paris [object control]
- Raising: Subject or object is semantically not an argument of the verb
 - Kim seemed to enjoy the party. [subject raising]
 - Kim expects Lee to have gone to Paris. [object raising]
